

Quick Fact:

According to a 2010 salary survey by the National Contract Management Association, the median salary for the contract management profession is $92,500.

Interested in the high-demand field of contracts management?
Then sign up today for Roane State's new course,

INTRODUCTION TO GOVERNMENT CONTRACTS

WHEN The class begins Jan. 13, 2011.
The five-week course will be held on Thursdays from 5:30-9:30 p.m. EST.

WHERE The class will meet at the college's Oak Ridge campus, 701 Briarcliff Ave.

You don't have to go back to school full-time to take the classes, but you do need to complete a Roane State application.

For more information about applying to Roane State, call Jim McDaniel at (865) 481-2000 ext 2362.

Introduction to Government Contracts will teach you...

- A foundational understanding of the federal procurement system
- Contract types, language and terminology
- Basic processes of government contracting
- A basic understanding of the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the Department of Energy Regulation (DEAR)

Once you complete the first course, two additional contracts management classes will be offered by Roane State: Mission Directed Contracting and Mission-Performance Assessment. By completing all three classes, you will have expertise in a high-value field.

Developing an expertise in contracts management can make you more valuable to your organization or lead you to a new and rewarding career. Sign up today for Roane State's first contracts management course: Introduction to Government Contracts.

For more information about the program contact:
Dr. Diane Ward, Dean, Social Science, Business, and Education
Roane State Community College
(865) 882-4642
wardd@roanestate.edu