MEMBERSHIP

If you aren't a member yet you didn't get your Contract Management magazine. Not only are there lots of great articles about topics in our profession, but there's also an ad toward the back of the magazine that lets you know about another great members-only resource on the NCMA website called NCMA Communities. It's a forum in which NCMA members can ask questions and exchange information about a variety of topics. If you don't see a topic you are interested in, there's an e-mail address to add it – but only if you're a member! Want to join or need to renew over the summer? Visit www.ncmahq.org and click on "Membership" under "About Us" to join.
